Section 4 Scope of Services - Broadway Corridor (Downtown Chelsea) – Transportation Circulation Study

INTRODUCTION

The City of Chelsea, through the Department of Planning and Development (the “Department”) is seeking submissions from qualified inter-disciplinary consulting firms for the preparation of a Transportation Circulation Study for the Broadway Corridor, the City’s primary retail corridor. Under the guidance of Chelsea City Council and the Chelsea City Manager, the Department has secured local funding for the preparation of a comprehensive multi-modal plan for Broadway investigating potential strategies and improvement methods that will effectively enhance downtown’s overall functionality, aesthetic, and physical infrastructure.

The objective of this study is to identify and analyze potential improvements, through the analysis of preexisting usage patterns and physical conditions, to multi-modal mobility, traffic and public transit circulation, and public safety. Comprehension of key data and trends related to vehicles, pedestrians, bicyclists, and MBTA transit services is required. The consultant shall be capable of incorporating analytical studies with a progressive understanding of environmentally sustainable streetscape design approaches that will benefit the Broadway Corridor. The recommendations from this study should be plausibly achieved through short and medium term infrastructure projects, programming, and policy alternatives. Proactively, the City has committed funding for 100% design, as well as funding for construction, for activities following this study.

Extensive public outreach and interaction are required through this contract. All public meetings shall be held after 6:00 P.M., preferably on Tuesday evenings, and be accessible to all with Spanish translation provided by the consultant. Meetings with City officials, as well as informal stakeholder meetings (see: Task 3), are not constrained by time, although it will be the responsibility of the Department to schedule these meetings.

Prospective respondents should be cognizant that the City has completed a number of planning initiatives in recent years that are pertinent to the Broadway Corridor. These include, but are not limited to, the Broadway Corridor Action Plan, a 2011 study of the Broadway/Congress Avenue/Cross Street intersection by the Central Transportation Planning Staff, and the Community Development Block Grant-funded Slum and Blight Study. Contextually, these studies provide an ample body of knowledge that shall be utilized throughout this project.

Qualified consulting firms are invited to submit written responses to the City of Chelsea’s Purchasing Department, due by October 13, 2016 at 2:00PM.

PROJECT AREA BACKGROUND

The project area at hand will be the area encompassing Broadway and its collector streets, bound by Fay Square and Bellingham Square, the Chelsea Commuter Rail Station, the Massachusetts Information Technology Center at the end of Fifth Street, Hawthorne Street, and Chelsea Square. The project catchment area shall also include connections to the proposed Silver Line Gateway service and parallel Shared-Use Path. Upon selecting a qualified consultant(s), the City will work with the respective firm(s) to confirm the definitive boundaries of the project area. At a minimum, the emphasis shall be on Broadway from Fay Square to Williams Street and its collector streets.

Densely-settled and comprised of over 37,000 residents, Chelsea is a 1.8 square mile urban municipality bordering Boston, Revere, and Everett. A community of inveterate diversity, the City has historically welcomed successive waves of foreign immigrants beginning their lives in America. Although home to many, the City has continually fostered industry along its waterfront and peripheral areas that has provided employment to local and regional residents. A convergence point of numerous main thoroughfares and neighborhoods, Broadway has been the historic location of retail and commercial services serving Chelsea's diverse population, with a prevalence of international retail options. Presently, Broadway has a differing variety of storefront shops, restaurants, second floor shops and offices, banks, and cultural offerings. Schools, parks, government offices, and public transit services can be found within, or a short walk from, the corridor. Furthermore, the City actively promotes residential development in the upper stories of buildings situated within the corridor.

Despite grappling with two catastrophic fires that altered the City's footprint, as well as the environmental remnants of its rapid industrialization, Chelsea has undergone remarkable growth, primarily through the redevelopment and reuse of existing structures. As the City is substantially built-out, smaller infill and adaptive reuse projects have been popular. This trend has yielded recent redevelopment proposals for buildings on or adjacent to Broadway. Without a firm depiction of the corridor's circulation patterns, the City cannot accurately ascertain development impacts or where infrastructure reconstruction will be needed.

Despite a low retail vacancy rate and an active pedestrian realm, the Broadway Corridor experiences challenges pertaining to navigation, traffic circulation, and streetscape design. A number of areas along the Broadway Corridor are designated "High Crash Clusters" under the federal Highway Safety Improvement Program. The City seeks to understand existing patterns of vehicular, pedestrian, bicyclist, and freight traffic. This understanding shall be the foundation of a series of proposed improvements that will optimize the Broadway Corridor's streetscape design, street layout, and traffic ordinances. The corresponding analysis and improvements should be tailored to enhance navigation, increase safety for all, and foster productive streetscape uses, thus contributing to the vitality of the area's retail, commercial, and cultural establishments and ease of access to the area's housing stock.

Key objectives to this study include:

- Collect and analyze vehicular, transit, pedestrian, and bicyclist data, including school traffic and any estimated influx of trips associated with the Silver Line Gateway service and the Wynn Boston Harbor casino project;
- Estimate future multi-modal trips under the City's development scenarios;
- Analyze the physical layout, streetscape configuration, on-street parking, and operating condition of the Broadway Corridor;
- Assess the existing location of transit stops, public gathering areas, and commercial loading areas to determine if a more suitable location exists for such areas;
- Develop a balanced, multi-modal strategy that understands residents' needs in order to increase the ratio of pedestrian and transit trips, while assuaging congestion and promoting public safety;
- Propose recommendations that allow the Broadway Corridor to function more efficiently through infrastructure reconstruction, streetscape configuration, and traffic ordinances; and
- Propose recommendations that allow the Broadway Corridor to be aesthetically and functionally improved in a sustainable manner that is within the City's budgetary allocation for design and construction.

In conjunction with this study, the City is also aggressively addressing numerous social and community issues within the Broadway Corridor through contracts with social service providers. These include the employment of outreach “Navigators” and the creation of a façade improvement program. Moreover, the City Manager and the Department has recently submitted a package of zoning modifications proposed to promote a mixture of retail and residential development along Broadway. The selected consultant will be provided with all existing and revised zoning ordinances.

SCOPE OF SERVICES

The selected firm will work closely with the Department and an advisory committee composed of Broadway’s stakeholders, property owners, and nonprofit organizations. The Advisory Committee will be appointed by the City Manager and be responsible for guiding the process, acting as ambassadors to the community, and vetting final recommendations. Additionally, this study will include ample opportunities for public input, through events illustrated in this Scope of Services. The responding firms shall furnish a proposal that encompasses this Scope of Services in its entirety, with a respective fee and approximate timeline for each task. The consultant shall ensure all public meetings and final reports are presented in English and Spanish, via live and document translation services. Additionally, the consultant shall be available by phone and email, responding to the Department within 24-hours.

Task 1: Background Review, Kick-Off Meeting, Public Visioning Session

The consultant shall aggregate relevant information from multiple sources, including publicly available plans, studies, GIS data, U.S. Census data, and information on public transit service. A firm comprehension of what has been accomplished along the Broadway Corridor thus far, as well as what is soon anticipated, will be required. Once a detailed understanding of the project area is garnered, the consultant shall hold a formal kick-off meeting with the Department, City Manager, and other City departments and staff. This initial management meeting will yield a refined project outline, timetable, and schedule of events. The consultant is encouraged to assemble maps, graphic media, or other materials to facilitate this meeting. A public Visioning Workshop will be scheduled and led by the consultant. An opportunity for community dialogue, the Visioning Session will be interactive and conversational, designed to elicit thoughtful community feedback. The format of this session is flexible, but shall include activities or prompts that facilitate conversation on the Broadway Corridor’s existing conditions, challenges, and opportunities. The consultant will be responsible for compiling a presentation and any media distributed during this workshop.

Deliverables: One (1) City kick-off meeting, one (1) Visioning Workshop (Public Meeting #1), meeting notes, presentations, and miscellaneous materials.

Task 2: Existing Conditions Analysis

The consultant shall conduct a comprehensive analysis of the project area’s existing conditions. Utilizing data captured from multiple sources, the consultant shall:

- Conduct field investigations and counts for traffic, bicycle, freight, and pedestrian data;
- Collect and analyze data during school drop-off and pick-up periods, as well as peak and off peak times;
- Determine multi-modal volume and directional data, including volume/capacity ratios and crash statistics, at the roadway, intersection, and corridor level;

- Conduct field investigations to analyze infrastructure conditions, current formats, and overarching usage patterns of the streetscape and public squares;
- Analyze the usage and placement of commercial loading zones and transit stops;
- Collect and analyze MBTA bluebook data by bus line and borders by transit stop, as well as analyze general circulation patterns of transit service;
- Analyze street directionality, curb cut and driveway placement, and public alleyway function;
- Assess congestion points, points of conflict, and other areas of inefficiencies; and
- Analyze the location of public parking within the corridor and how it correlates to general circulation trends.

Deliverables: Memorandum outlining data collection methodology, sources, and final analysis to be incorporated into the final study.

Task 3: Stakeholder Meetings

At the instruction of the City Manager, the Advisory Committee will convene regularly throughout the study to be provided with progress updates, data and information, and recommendations to critique. Members will include residents, downtown property owners, local business owners, government officials, and members of local nonprofit organizations. The consultant will be required to attend these meetings, as needed, throughout the duration of the study. Additionally, the consultant shall convene and manage three (3) topic-oriented meetings with selected stakeholders. With three to five participants per topic, these meetings should be structured to delve into selected topics, while also serving to educate participants. Centered on topical issues related to downtown transportation, specific topics will be selected at the City kick-off meeting. Although relatively informal, the consultant shall run these meetings professionally and concisely, demonstrating their ability to convey technical, often academic, material in plain language to stakeholders who may be inexperienced in the transportation field. City policy dictates that public meetings must be held after 6:00 P.M.

Deliverables: Routine consultation with the Advisory Committee and meeting notes, three (3) small stakeholder meetings, meeting materials, and meeting notes

Task 4: Challenges and Opportunities

Based upon the data and information analyzed by the consultant in Task 2, the consultant shall summarize, both visually and through a written memorandum, the project area's existing conditions, challenges, constraints, and opportunities for improvement. This analysis will be showcased by the consultant at a public meeting and in a format that is visually-engaging and comprehensible for the general public.

Deliverables: Challenges and Opportunities memorandum, Public Meeting #2, public meeting presentation, meeting materials, and meeting notes.

Task 5: Understanding Future Development Scenarios

The consultant shall convene with the Department and other City staff to discuss upcoming development proposals, the existing zoning framework guiding development in the area, site access issues, as well as anticipated future development scenarios. The City will provide the consultant with available information on development proposals, including total square footage, floor area ratios, special permit conditions and variance details, and site design schematics. The consultant shall factor this information into their network analysis of travel patterns throughout the Broadway Corridor. The consultant shall estimate total trip generation, access points, and nodes of conflict in order to discern the implications for the overall network.

Task 6: Circulation Analysis

Anchored by the previously analyzed data, field investigations, and development scenarios, the consultant shall conduct a comprehensive circulation and transportation analysis of the Broadway Corridor, supplemented by public input attained thus far. The consultant will be responsible for extrapolating local and regional transportation trends, under both static and proposed development scenarios. This analysis should deconstruct the corridor, by mode type and location, to highlight travel patterns, points of convergence and conflict, and streetscape design deficiencies. Additionally, the consultant shall formulate and assess various recommendations for optimizing circulation, ranging from physical modifications to street directionality to the employment of traffic control devices. The consultant shall measure the potential impacts of these hypothetical recommendations as part of the circulation analysis.

Deliverables: Circulation Analysis memorandum, meeting with the Advisory Committee, meeting materials, meeting notes.

Task 7: Recommendations & Alternatives Analysis

The consultant shall present the recommendations, following the Advisory Committee meeting, to City officials, as well as officials from MassDOT, the MBTA, and, if appropriate, surrounding communities. The recommendations and analysis of hypothetical design and planning interventions for the Broadway Corridor will also be presented to the general public in a public meeting format. Recommendations should include descriptive text, statistics, visual renderings, timelines for implementation, and estimated cost. Input from the Advisory Committee, government officials, and stakeholders shall guide the refinement of recommendations through their final iteration.

Deliverables: Government Officials meeting, Public Meeting #3, meeting materials, and meeting notes.

Task 8: Draft of Final Transportation Circulation Study & Recommendations

Following the receipt of one set of comments from the City, as well as feedback from stakeholders and the general public, the consultant should produce a draft of the final report, which will be a compilation of the analyses, input, and recommendations produced thus far. The consultant shall submit a draft report for review by the Department.

Deliverables: Draft of Final Transportation Circulation Study

Task 9: Final Report Preparation & Presentation

Following the receipt of one set of non-conflicting comments from the City, the consultant will be instructed to produce a final version of the study. This version should reflect all efforts undertaken throughout the process, summarizing key points of public input, as well as technical analyses and recommendations. The final version of the study will be concisely presented in a final public meeting.

Deliverables: Final report, Public Meeting #4 to present final report, meeting presentation, meeting materials, meeting notes.

The Chief Procurement Officer will weigh the evaluations, the rates, and the recommendation in order to identify the most advantageous proposal for the City.

Once the Chief Procurement Officer has identified the most advantageous proposal for the City, a contract will be negotiated and executed between the first chosen proposer and the City. If within a reasonable period of time a contract cannot be agreed upon and executed between the first chosen proposer and the City, then the City may contract with the second chosen proposer, and so on until a contract is signed.

The City of Chelsea reserves the right to reject any and all proposals, to waive minor informalities, and to make an award for professional services as may be deemed to be in the best interest of the City of Chelsea within the guidelines for qualification review set forth in this document.

Enclosed is a packet that should be copied and provide to each one of your employees who are assigned to work in Chelsea; including yourself. At the end of the summary is an acknowledgement of receipt of the summary. The acknowledgments must be submitted along with any purchase order or contract with the City of Chelsea. All documents pursuant to this new law will be kept on file in the City Clerk's Office

Summary of the Conflict of Interest Law for Municipal Employees

This summary of the conflict of interest law, General Laws chapter 268A, is intended to help municipal employees understand how that law applies to them. This summary is not a substitute for legal advice, nor does it mention every aspect of the law that may apply in a particular situation. Municipal employees can obtain free confidential advice about the conflict of interest law from the Commission's Legal Division at our website, phone number, and address above. Municipal counsel may also provide advice.

The conflict of interest law seeks to prevent conflicts between private interests and public duties, foster integrity in public service, and promote the public's trust and confidence in that service by placing restrictions on what municipal employees may do on the job, after hours, and after leaving public service, as described below. The sections referenced below are sections of G.L. c. 268A.

When the Commission determines that the conflict of interest law has been violated, it can impose a civil penalty of up to $10,000 ($25,000 for bribery cases) for each violation. In addition, the Commission can order the violator to repay any economic advantage he gained by the violation, and to make restitution to injured third parties. Violations of the conflict of interest law can also be prosecuted criminally.

I. Are you a municipal employee for conflict of interest law purposes?

You do not have to be a full-time, paid municipal employee to be considered a municipal employee for conflict of interest purposes. Anyone performing services for a city or town or holding a municipal position, whether paid or unpaid, including full- and part-time municipal employees, elected officials, volunteers, and consultants, is a municipal employee under the conflict of interest law. An employee of a private firm can also be a municipal employee, if the private firm has a contract with the city or town and the employee is a "key employee" under the contract, meaning the town has specifically contracted for her services. The law also covers private parties who engage in impermissible dealings with municipal employees, such as offering bribes or illegal gifts.

II. On-the-job restrictions.

(a) Bribes. Asking for and taking bribes is prohibited. (See Section 2)

A bribe is anything of value corruptly received by a municipal employee in exchange for the employee being influenced in his official actions. Giving, offering, receiving, or asking for a bribe is illegal.

Bribes are more serious than illegal gifts because they involve corrupt intent. In other words, the municipal employee intends to sell his office by agreeing to do or not do some official act, and the giver intends to influence him to do so. Bribes of any value are illegal.

(b) Gifts and gratuities. Asking for or accepting a gift because of your official position, or because of something you can do or have done in your official position, is prohibited. (See Sections 3, 23(b)(2), and 26)

Municipal employees may not accept gifts and gratuities valued at $50 or more given to influence their official actions or because of their official position. Accepting a gift intended to reward past official action or to bring about future official action is illegal, as is giving such gifts. Accepting a gift given to you because of the municipal position you hold is also illegal. Meals, entertainment event tickets, golf, gift baskets, and payment of travel expenses can all be illegal gifts if given in connection with official action or position, as can anything worth $50 or more. A number of smaller gifts together worth $50 or more may also violate these sections.

Example of violation : A town administrator accepts reduced rental payments from developers.

Example of violation : A developer offers a ski trip to a school district employee who oversees the developer's work for the school district.

Regulatory exemptions . There are situations in which a municipal employee's receipt of a gift does not present a genuine risk of a conflict of interest, and may in fact advance the public interest. The Commission has created exemptions permitting giving and receiving gifts in these situations. One commonly used exemption permits municipal employees to accept payment of travel-related expenses when doing so advances a public purpose. Another commonly used exemption permits municipal employees to accept payment of costs involved in attendance at educational and training programs. Other exemptions are listed on the Commission's website.

Example where there is no violation : A fire truck manufacturer offers to pay the travel expenses of a fire chief to a trade show where the chief can examine various kinds of fire-fighting equipment that the town may purchase. The chief fills out a disclosure form and obtains prior approval from his appointing authority.

Example where there is no violation : A town treasurer attends a two-day annual school featuring multiple substantive seminars on issues relevant to treasurers. The annual school is paid for in part by banks that do business with town treasurers. The treasurer is only required to make a disclosure if one of the sponsoring banks has official business before her in the six months before or after the annual school.

(c) Misuse of position. Using your official position to get something you are not entitled to, or to get someone else something they are not entitled to, is prohibited. Causing someone else to do these things is also prohibited. (See Sections 23(b)(2) and 26)

A municipal employee may not use her official position to get something worth $50 or more that would not be properly available to other similarly situated individuals. Similarly, a municipal employee may not use her official position to get something worth $50 or more for someone else that would not be properly available to other similarly situated individuals. Causing someone else to do these things is also prohibited.

Example of violation : A full-time town employee writes a novel on work time, using her office computer, and directing her secretary to proofread the draft.

Example of violation : A city councilor directs subordinates to drive the councilor's wife to and from the grocery store.

Example of violation : A mayor avoids a speeding ticket by asking the police officer who stops him, "Do you know who I am?" and showing his municipal I.D.

(d) Self-dealing and nepotism. Participating as a municipal employee in a matter in which you, your immediate family, your business organization, or your future employer has a financial interest is prohibited. (See Section 19)

A municipal employee may not participate in any particular matter in which he or a member of his immediate family (parents, children, siblings, spouse, and spouse's parents, children, and siblings) has a financial interest. He also may not participate in any particular matter in which a prospective employer, or a business organization of which he is a director, officer, trustee, or employee has a financial interest. Participation includes discussing as well as voting on a matter, and delegating a matter to someone else.

A financial interest may create a conflict of interest whether it is large or small, and positive or negative. In other words, it does not matter if a lot of money is involved or only a little. It also does not matter if you are putting money into your pocket or taking it out. If you, your immediate family, your business, or your employer have or has a financial interest in a matter, you may not participate. The financial interest must be direct and immediate or reasonably foreseeable to create a conflict. Financial interests which are remote, speculative or not sufficiently identifiable do not create conflicts.

Example of violation : A school committee member's wife is a teacher in the town's public schools. The school committee member votes on the budget line item for teachers' salaries.

Example of violation : A member of a town affordable housing committee is also the director of a non-profit housing development corporation. The non-profit makes an application to the committee, and the member/director participates in the discussion.

Example : A planning board member lives next door to property where a developer plans to construct a new building. Because the planning board member owns abutting property, he is presumed to have a financial interest in the matter. He cannot participate unless he provides the State Ethics Commission with an opinion from a qualified independent appraiser that the new construction will not affect his financial interest.

In many cases, where not otherwise required to participate, a municipal employee may comply with the law by simply not participating in the particular matter in which she has a financial interest. She need not give a reason for not participating.

There are several exemptions to this section of the law. An appointed municipal employee may file a written disclosure about the financial interest with his appointing authority, and seek permission to participate notwithstanding the conflict. The appointing authority may grant written permission if she determines that the financial interest in question is not so substantial that it is likely to affect the integrity of his services to the municipality. Participating without disclosing the financial interest is a violation. Elected employees cannot use the disclosure procedure because they have no appointing authority.

Example where there is no violation : An appointed member of the town zoning advisory committee, which will review and recommend changes to the town's by-laws with regard to a commercial district, is a partner at a company that owns commercial property in the district. Prior to participating in any committee discussions, the member files a disclosure with the zoning board of appeals that appointed him to his position, and that board gives him a written determination authorizing his participation, despite his company's financial interest. There is no violation.

There is also an exemption for both appointed and elected employees where the employee's task is to address a matter of general policy and the employee's financial interest is shared with a substantial portion (generally 10% or more) of the town's population, such as, for instance, a financial interest in real estate tax rates or municipal utility rates.

(e) False claims. Presenting a false claim to your employer for a payment or benefit is prohibited, and causing someone else to do so is also prohibited. (See Sections 23(b)(4) and 26)

A municipal employee may not present a false or fraudulent claim to his employer for any payment or benefit worth $50 or more, or cause another person to do so.

Example of violation : A public works director directs his secretary to fill out time sheets to show him as present at work on days when he was skiing.

(f) Appearance of conflict. Acting in a manner that would make a reasonable person think you can be improperly influenced is prohibited. (See Section 23(b)(3))

A municipal employee may not act in a manner that would cause a reasonable person to think that she would show favor toward someone or that she can be improperly influenced. Section 23(b)(3) requires a municipal employee to consider whether her relationships and affiliations could prevent her from acting fairly and objectively when she performs her duties for a city or town. If she cannot be fair and objective because of a relationship or affiliation, she should not perform her duties. However, a municipal employee, whether elected or appointed, can avoid violating this provision by making a public disclosure of the facts. An appointed employee must make the disclosure in writing to his appointing official.

Example where there is no violation : A developer who is the cousin of the chair of the conservation commission has filed an application with the commission. A reasonable person could conclude that the chair might favor her cousin. The chair files a written disclosure with her appointing authority explaining her relationship with her cousin prior to the meeting at which the application will be considered. There is no violation of Sec. 23(b)(3).

(g) Confidential information. Improperly disclosing or personally using confidential information obtained through your job is prohibited. (See Section 23(c))

Municipal employees may not improperly disclose confidential information, or make personal use of non-public information they acquired in the course of their official duties to further their personal interests.

III. After-hours restrictions.

(a) Taking a second paid job that conflicts with the duties of your municipal job is prohibited. (See Section 23(b)(1))

A municipal employee may not accept other paid employment if the responsibilities of the second job are incompatible with his or her municipal job.

Example : A police officer may not work as a paid private security guard in the town where he serves because the demands of his private employment would conflict with his duties as a police officer.

(b) Divided loyalties. Receiving pay from anyone other than the city or town to work on a matter involving the city or town is prohibited. Acting as agent or attorney for anyone other than the city or town in a matter involving the city or town is also prohibited whether or not you are paid. (See Sec. 17)

Because cities and towns are entitled to the undivided loyalty of their employees, a municipal employee may not be paid by other people and organizations in relation to a matter if the city or town has an interest in the matter. In addition, a municipal employee may not act on behalf of other people and organizations or act as an attorney for other people and organizations in which the town has an interest. Acting as agent includes contacting the municipality in person, by phone, or in writing; acting as a liaison; providing documents to the city or town; and serving as spokesman.

A municipal employee may always represent his own personal interests, even before his own municipal agency or board, on the same terms and conditions that other similarly situated members of the public would be allowed to do so. A municipal employee may also apply for building and related permits on behalf of someone else and be paid for doing so, unless he works for the permitting agency, or an agency which regulates the permitting agency.

Example of violation : A full-time health agent submits a septic system plan that she has prepared for a private client to the town's board of health.

Example of violation : A planning board member represents a private client before the board of selectmen on a request that town meeting consider rezoning the client's property.

While many municipal employees earn their livelihood in municipal jobs, some municipal employees volunteer their time to provide services to the town or receive small stipends. Others, such as a private attorney who provides legal services to a town as needed, may serve in a position in which they may have other personal or private employment during normal working hours. In recognition of the need not to unduly restrict the ability of town volunteers and part-time employees to earn a living, the law is less restrictive for "special" municipal employees than for other municipal employees.

The status of "special" municipal employee has to be assigned to a municipal position by vote of the board of selectmen, city council, or similar body. A position is eligible to be designated as "special" if it is unpaid, or if it is part-time and the employee is allowed to have another job during normal working hours, or if the employee was not paid for working more than 800 hours during the preceding 365 days. It is the position that is designated as "special" and not the person or persons holding the position. Selectmen in towns of 10,000 or fewer are automatically "special"; selectman in larger towns cannot be "specials."

If a municipal position has been designated as "special," an employee holding that position may be paid by others, act on behalf of others, and act as attorney for others with respect to matters before municipal boards other than his own, provided that he has not officially participated in the matter, and the matter is not now, and has not within the past year been, under his official responsibility.

Example : A school committee member who has been designated as a special municipal employee appears before the board of health on behalf of a client of his private law practice, on a matter that he has not participated in or had responsibility for as a school committee member. There is no conflict. However, he may not appear before the school committee, or the school department, on behalf of a client because he has official responsibility for any matter that comes before the school committee. This is still the case even if he has recused himself from participating in the matter in his official capacity.

Example : A member who sits as an alternate on the conservation commission is a special municipal employee. Under town by-laws, he only has official responsibility for matters assigned to him. He may represent a resident who wants to file an application with the conservation commission as long as the matter is not assigned to him and he will not participate in it.

(c) Inside track. Being paid by your city or town, directly or indirectly, under some second arrangement in addition to your job is prohibited, unless an exemption applies. (See Section 20)

A municipal employee generally may not have a financial interest in a municipal contract, including a second municipal job. A municipal employee is also generally prohibited from having an indirect financial interest in a contract that the city or town has with someone else. This provision is intended to prevent municipal employees from having an "inside track" to further financial opportunities.

Example of violation : Legal counsel to the town housing authority becomes the acting executive director of the authority, and is paid in both positions.

Example of violation : A selectman buys a surplus truck from the town DPW.

Example of violation : A full-time secretary for the board of health wants to have a second paid job working part-time for the town library. She will violate Section 20 unless she can meet the requirements of an exemption.

Example of violation : A city councilor wants to work for a non-profit that receives funding under a contract with her city. Unless she can satisfy the requirements of an exemption under Section 20, she cannot take the job.

There are numerous exemptions. A municipal employee may hold multiple unpaid or elected positions. Some exemptions apply only to special municipal employees. Specific exemptions may cover serving as an unpaid volunteer in a second town position, housing-related benefits, public safety positions, certain elected positions, small towns, and other specific situations. Please call the Ethics Commission's Legal Division for advice about a specific situation.

IV. After you leave municipal employment. (See Section 18)

(a) Forever ban. After you leave your municipal job, you may never work for anyone other than the municipality on a matter that you worked on as a municipal employee.

If you participated in a matter as a municipal employee, you cannot ever be paid to work on that same matter for anyone other than the municipality, nor may you act for someone else, whether paid or not. The purpose of this restriction is to bar former employees from selling to private interests their familiarity with the facts of particular matters that are of continuing concern to their former municipal employer. The restriction does not prohibit former municipal employees from using the expertise acquired in government service in their subsequent private activities.

Example of violation : A former school department employee works for a contractor under a contract that she helped to draft and oversee for the school department.

(b) One year cooling-off period. For one year after you leave your municipal job you may not participate in any matter over which you had official responsibility during your last two years of public service.

Former municipal employees are barred for one year after they leave municipal employment from personally appearing before any agency of the municipality in connection with matters that were under their authority in their prior municipal positions during the two years before they left.

Example : An assistant town manager negotiates a three-year contract with a company. The town manager who supervised the assistant, and had official responsibility for the contract but did not participate in negotiating it, leaves her job to work for the company to which the contract was awarded. The former manager may not call or write the town in connection with the company's work on the contract for one year after leaving the town.

A former municipal employee who participated as such in general legislation on expanded gaming and related matters may not become an officer or employee of, or acquire a financial interest in, an applicant for a gaming license, or a gaming licensee, for one year after his public employment ceases.

(c) Partners. Your partners will be subject to restrictions while you serve as a municipal employee and after your municipal service ends.

Partners of municipal employees and former municipal employees are also subject to restrictions under the conflict of interest law. If a municipal employee participated in a matter, or if he has official responsibility for a matter, then his partner may not act on behalf of anyone other than the municipality or provide services as an attorney to anyone but the city or town in relation to the matter.

Example : While serving on a city's historic district commission, an architect reviewed an application to get landmark status for a building. His partners at his architecture firm may not prepare and sign plans for the owner of the building or otherwise act on the owner's behalf in relation to the application for landmark status. In addition, because the architect has official responsibility as a commissioner for every matter that comes before the commission, his partners may not communicate with the commission or otherwise act on behalf of any client on any matter that comes before the commission during the time that the architect serves on the commission.

Example : A former town counsel joins a law firm as a partner. Because she litigated a lawsuit for the town, her new partners cannot represent any private clients in the lawsuit for one year after her job with the town ended.
